

This year, we are seeing unprecedented need within our community. Necessities like rent, healthcare, and food continue to rise in cost, causing some of our neighbors to visit their local food bank for the first time.

Food Lifeline firmly believes that food is a human right that should be readily available to all people. We know that it will take an entire community, or rather, an entire movement, to end hunger.

Our community of donors have a vital role to play in our mission to end hunger. Partner with Food Lifeline and join us in tackling the root causes of hunger including poverty, systemic racism, and rampant inequity. Together, we can ensure that our communities are fed, uplifted, and empowered.

Join us as we partner with some of the region's finest chefs to end hunger in Western Washington! Come together with your guests and fellow Food Lifeline supporters to enjoy a fabulous dinner in a spectacular setting at Cedarbrook Lodge. You'll hear how rapid inflation, escalating food prices, and ongoing supply chain issues created unparalleled challenges to Food Lifeline and our neighbors facing hunger.

We'll share our focus on three primary goals: increasing access to nutritious traditional and culturally relevant food; investing in and advancing community-led hunger interventions; and leveraging the power of our stakeholders and the political will in a campaign to end hunger.

BUSINESS SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Employee Giving Programs

Employees can make tax-deductible donations to Food Lifeline through payroll contributions at work. Companies can match gifts or simply offer the opportunity to their employees. We partner with large and small companies each year typically at year's end or during the benefit renewal cycle. Custom options are available.

Match Pool

We invite you to participate in a match pool that inspires others to give, typically doubling the impact of any individual contribution. Opportunities occur throughout the year, including in November and December during our Together To End Hunger campaign. You can inspire others to act to ensure we have robust financial support to accomplish our mission.

Virtual Food Drive

Help us provide more of the food that our community wants and needs by hosting a virtual food drive. While traditional food drives can result in items we already have good access to or sometimes even less healthy food, a virtual food drive helps Food Lifeline ensure we are distributing the foods people want and need. Online food drives offer another advantage: contagious giving. Donors are more likely to participate if they see their friends and family giving.

Food Drives

Whether at your place of business or among many branches, host a food drive for shelf-staple pantry staples or traditional and culturally relevant foods in order to ensure all our guests are able to create familiar and traditional foods for their tables.

Retail

Food, drink, and clothing brands have long supported Food Lifeline via displays, in-store and digital promotions. Retail activations are a great way to support our work while raising awareness about hunger in our community. Promotions may focus on contributions generated by sales of a particular product, a percentage of sales, or a simple suggested donation at the register.

Custom

Food Lifeline specializes in designing unique, custom campaigns. We recognize that each company has its own character and culture. We are committed to working toward aligning our goals for the community with the unique talents and diversity our partners bring to our table. Want to donate in lieu of an event? Have a "wild" idea? Get in touch, we'd love to hear it!
